

Privacy Collection Statement – Nickelodeon Australia

Nickelodeon Australia Management Pty Ltd (ACN 071 493 340) and its related bodies corporate (we, us, our) may collect your personal information for a range of purposes in the course of providing our services. You can find our full Privacy Policy here.

Your personal information is any information that may be used to personally identify you, and may include your name, address, telephone number, email address, profession or occupation, or bank details. We may collect your personal information in a number of circumstances, including when you contact us, visit our website, enter a competition, comment or post on our social media pages, apply for or seek employment, or provide us with information to make a payment to you for services you have provided to us. This information is collected so that we can do certain things, including contacting you, so that we can perform or improve our services, or so that we can make a payment to you.

We may provide your personal information to our related companies and other third parties to assist us in carrying out our business, and this may require us to send your personal information overseas (and if we do so, usually to the US or the EU), for purposes including storing your personal information, or as may be required in order to provide our services. If you do not provide us with your personal information, it may mean we cannot provide you with certain services or that your experience of our services will not be as enjoyable.

Further information, including how you can contact us, how you can make an enquiry or a complaint, and information on how you can access or correct or any personal information we may hold of yours is set out in our Privacy Policy.
